These examples assume a hypothetical Income Base of $500,000 at the time Lifetime Income Payments begin in year 10 with an initial premium of $100,000. In reality, your Income Base will depend on your premium, your contract guarantees, and your actual contract experience, including but not limited to any interest credits, rider charges, and/or withdrawals. These examples also assume a 5.00% guaranteed withdrawal percentage at age 65, the attained age at which Lifetime Income Payments are assumed to be elected, and an enhanced multiplier of 2 for a single annuitant contract. Impairment Income is available only while the eligibility requirements are met and the account value is greater than zero. This example is hypothetical, non-guaranteed and is not an indication of the annuity's past or future performance. All rates are subject to change at the sole discretion of Fidelity & Guaranty Life Insurance Company. The use of alternate rates of assumptions would produce significantly different results.

¹ If specific qualifications for impairment are met (see Contract and SOU for details) and the account value is greater than zero, withdrawal payments increase by 2X (1.5X if joint contract). Feature is subject to state availability.

² May be referred to as Impairment Income or Enhanced Guaranteed Minimum Withdrawal Benefit in your Contract.

How it works

Flexibility in your retirement income stream can be a valuable feature – especially if your health changes in later years. As a result, several FIAs from F&G include an Impairment Income Rider.¹

The Impairment Multiplier² doubles the annual lifetime income payment for eligible single annuitants and multiplies the payment by 1.5 times for eligible joint annuitants. This feature is activated during your impairment when you can no longer perform two of six activities of daily living (ADLs).

As long as you meet the rider qualifications³ and your account value is greater than zero, you will receive the enhanced payments for as long as your impairment continues or as long as your account value is above $0. If your account value reaches $0, then your annual payments revert back to the originally guaranteed level. This is not considered long-term care insurance.

What if I pass away? Could my spouse continue receiving income?

If your FIA with the Impairment Multiplier³ is in the accumulation period when you pass away and your spouse continues the contract, your FIA will remain in accumulation. Once the FIA contract enters the withdrawal period, guaranteed withdrawal payments will be based on your spouse's life. For additional details, please refer to the SOU.

This product is a deferred, fixed indexed annuity that provides a minimum guaranteed surrender value. You should understand how the minimum guaranteed surrender value is determined before purchasing an annuity contract. Even though contract values may be affected by external indexes, the annuity is not an investment in the stock market and does not participate in any stock, bond or equity investments.

The level of lifetime income payment amount is guaranteed for life as long as no Excess Withdrawals are taken. Excess Withdrawals will reduce the lifetime income payment amount and in some cases reduce it to zero, terminating the contract.

Surrender charges and Market Value Adjustment may apply to partial and full surrenders. Surrenders may be taxable and may be subject to penalties prior to age 59 ½.
